Losing Eligibility or Disqualification	<ul> <li>A Project may lose rebate eligibility or be disqualified if:</li> <li>The production entity falls out of good standing with the Secretary of State in the state where the entity is incorporated.</li> <li>Production is delayed or suspended, funding is lost, or the production will no longer take place in the Iron Range Resources and Rehabilitation's service area</li> <li>Program Administrator determines that the production will not occur.</li> <li>Program Administrator determines that the production is engaged in fraudulent or unlawful behavior (e.g., wage theft).</li> <li>Production has not fulfilled financial obligations of using service area labor, vendors or goods and services.</li> <li>The production no longer meets eligibility criteria.</li> <li>Production fails to meet Rebate Expenditure Report submission deadlines. Production Delay	A certified project must start principal photography within 6 months of certification. If a certified project is delayed beyond that, the project will be moved into "pending" status. While a project is in pending status, UMFO may make the incentive funds allocated to the pending project available for other active projects on the production waiting list. When the pending project is ready to begin principal production, and only if incentive program funds are still available, the certified project will move back to "active" status. If a certified project is delayed and does not start principal photography within 12 months of certification, it will lose eligibility. A certified project that loses eligibility or is disqualified due to significant production delays or loss of funding may reapply by completing and submitting a new project certification application with new attachments assuming project has not yet begun, and program funds are still available.
Over-Subscription (Funding Availability)	If applications received for the Iron Range Regional Production Incentive Program exceed the total amount appropriated by the program, the Program Administrator will maintain a waiting list. Projects that meet eligibility may be provisionally certified in amounts up to 20% in the event that funds become available. Submission and/or provisional certification of an application does not in any way guarantee that a project will be reimbursed or that funds will be available.
